BRAVE GIRL.

For her bravery in hewing her family out of the ruins of their storm-wrecked | 921 north Washington street. house, a Carnegie hero medal is to be asked for 15 year-old Mamie Price, who lives near Bowden, Ga. The storm struck the Price home last Friday night, wrecked it, and buried all its inmates in the debris, except the girl. She got an axe and guided by the cries of the victims and a lantern, she began to cut them out. Mrs. Price died as the girl cut the last timbers from about her, but she rescued her baby and a younger sister practically unburt. Her father was held by heavy beams, but his most serious hurt was the crushing of his left arm. The girl cut away the timbers from the body of her father, but the mangled arm was still held. Price realized that the arm was lost and that it was only held by sheds of skin and flesh, so he told the girl to sever the rest with an axe. The child objected, but when the father insisted she brought down the axe and Price was free. Under her father's direction, the child made a tourniquet to step the loss of blood, then went through the darkness A Helpful Smoke for assistance. Price will recover. A handsome memorial will be given the girl by citizens of Bowden.

NEGRO ASSAILANT KILLED.

In the presence of Mrs. Andrew Deas, whom he had assaulted, an unkown negro was lynched in the suburbs of Jacksonville, Fla., early yesterday morning. The assault upon Mrs. Deas was com-mitted Saturday. She was in the grounds of her home, when the negro sprang from behind shrubbery and seized her. After the negro left Mrs. Deas managed to reach the house and give the alarm. Her son organized a posse, and the as-sailant was hunted with bloodhounds all Saturday night. He was captured about 4 o'clock and was burried before Mrs. Deas for identification. "He is the necried Mrs. Deas as soon as she gro," cried Mrs. Dess as soon as she looked at the prisoner. As soon as Mrs. Deas made the announcement the posse began to pour volleys in the priso riddling his body. Not satisfied with this, knives were used, and the negroes head was almost severed from his bedy Mrs. Deas is a woman of wealth and of

Dear Sirs. Mr. — President of a cotton-mill at Union, S.C.—he don't want to see his name in-print—had two offers of 500 csl. lons of paint: $1.30 and $1.25, Took the $1.25 as d got skinned. He'd have got three-quarter skinned if he'd taken the other.

The $1.30 was full-gallon; the $1.35 was 18 per cent short. The full-measure paint was adulterated 40 per cent; the short-measure paint was adulterated 45 per cent, be-d a teazine in the oil, don't know how much.
